BECOME AN IMPACT PARTNER BY SUPPORTING THESE HUNGER-FIGHTING PROGRAMS

Food Service Training Academy—Our free, 14-week culinary and life skills program teaches students about communication, nutrition, and healthy cooking, providing them with hands-on experience and job placement.

Kids Cafes—Children receive nutrition education and nourishing after-school meals every day so they don't go to sleep on empty stomachs. Dinners are prepared by our Food Service Training Academy with the help of volunteers.

Summer Food—To bridge the summer nutrition gap for kids who receive free or reduced-price school meals, we serve breakfast and lunch to kids in need at sites across the state. Meals are prepared by our Food Service Training Academy with the help of volunteers.

Family Packs—Our volunteers pack bags of supplemental food to help sustain about 1,500 households through the weekend, when kids miss school meals.

Senior Boxes—Monthly boxes of supplemental food are packed by our volunteers and then distributed to seniors in need who live on fixed incomes.

Healthy Families Farmers Markets—Modeled after traditional farmers markets, we provide free, fresh fruits and vegetables year-round at 21 sites each month. A great opportunity for volunteers!

Emergency Relief—As a front-line responder during emergencies, CFBNJ pivots its operations to continue providing food to struggling neighbors during crises, like the COVID-19 pandemic. Emergency Meal Kits, large-scale distributions, grab-and-go food, and pre-made frozen meals provide vital assistance to those in need.

“What an honor it is to give back and help those who are less fortunate.”
