Workforce Development Programs —Our free, 14-week Food Service Training Academy and 8-week Warehouse Logistics Training Academy teach students life skills and technical culinary and inventory/operations skills, respectively, providing them with hands-on experience and job placement.

Kids Cafes - Children receive nutrition education and nourishing after-school meals every day so they don't go to sleep on empty stomachs. Dinners are prepared in CFBNJ's kitchen with the help of volunteers.

Summer Food - To bridge the summer nutrition gap for kids who receive free or reduced-price school meals, we serve breakfast and lunch to kids in need at sites across the state. Meals are prepared in CFBNJ's kitchen with the help of volunteers.

Family Packs – Food boxes of supplemental weekend groceries which, along with fresh produce, are provided to families of children who rely on school meals during the week and whose families need this additional food to sustain them through the weekends.

Senior Boxes - Monthly boxes of supplemental food are packed by our volunteers and then distributed to seniors in need who live on fixed incomes.

Diaper/Hygiene Distribution - Diapers and period supplies are not covered by most federally funded public assistance programs. Supplies from collection drives are brought to CFBNJ for packaging and distribution to families across the state.

Emergency Relief - As a front-line responder during emergencies, CFBNJ pivots its operations to continue providing food to struggling neighbors during crises. Emergency Meal Kits, large-scale distributions, grab-and-go food, and pre-made frozen meals provide vital assistance to those in need.

*"What an honor it is to give back."
